Exagen Inc., an organization dedicated to transforming the care continuum for patients suffering from debilitating and chronic autoimmune diseases by enabling timely differential diagnosis, prognosis, and monitoring while optimizing therapeutic intervention, today announced the Company completed a financing raising $22.6 million in aggregate equity capital. The financing will support ongoing commercialization activities for the Company's portfolio of autoimmune diagnostic testing products and therapeutics promotion business.

The financing was led by H.I.G. BioHealth Partners, a leading healthcare private equity investment fund, affiliated with H.I.G. This financing included additional capital raised earlier in the year from existing investors, including Tullis Health Funds, Sun Mountain, and Hunt Holdings.

"Partnering with H.I.G. enables Exagen to continue delivering clinically important diagnostics, prognostics, and monitoring blood tests while also pursuing growth opportunities with our existing pipeline development and pharmaceutical partnerships," said Ron Rocca, CEO and President of Exagen. "We are excited about Exagen's growth prospects and believe patients, physicians, and payers will benefit from the support of our investors as we embark on our next growth phase."

Mr. Rocca concluded, "Following this financing, we will continue to execute our strategic vision for fueling the growth of Exagen. In addition to launching our therapeutics promotion business earlier this year, we intend to continue growing our testing business by commercializing products in our R&D pipeline and expanding our sales force footprint. We have had tremendous success with our diagnostic, prognostic, and monitoring tests, including our flagship test, AVISE CTD, which has been ordered over 300,000 times since its launch in 2012."

"H.I.G. BioHealth Partners is excited to partner with Exagen at this point in its growth trajectory," said Bruce Robertson, Managing Director of H.I.G. "The Exagen team has built a market leading company by capturing growth opportunities within the autoimmune disease market and we look forward to sharing in Exagen's opportunities for further success going forward."

About Exagen Inc.

Exagen is dedicated to transforming the care continuum for patients suffering from debilitating and chronic autoimmune diseases by enabling timely differential diagnosis and optimizing therapeutic intervention. Exagen has developed and is commercializing a portfolio of innovative testing products under its AVISE brand, several of which are based on our proprietary Cell-Bound Complement Activation Products, or CB-CAPs, technology.
